Name of the Programme	NATIONAL WEBINAR ON ‘IMPACT OF CLIMATE CHANGE ON NATURAL RESOURCES AND BIODIVERSITY’
Date	14 th November 2020

Department of Sciences, Model Christian College in collaboration with IQAC conducted a one day national webinar on the topic ‘Impact of Climate Change on Natural Resources and Biodiversity’ on 14th November 2020, sponsored by the Ariicho Society for Human Transformation and Research with resource person Dr. Limatemjen, asst. professor, Dept. of Zoology, Kohima Science College, Jotsoma. He said that climate change alters the entire ecosystem along with all plants and animals. A gradual change in the climate allows the living organisms to adapt and evolve together, while a rapid change in the climate presents a threat to the survival of the species. It also led to the increase rate of extinction, change in reproduction timing and growing season of plants. He also advocated that combating climate change is a collective effort and one should not be dependent solely on government agencies and institutions. Further, he encouraged all the participants to plant more trees and reduce one’s own carbon footprint. The moderator for the webinar was Mr. Kedozi asst. professor, Dept. of Geography and vote of thanks was delivered by Dr. Mhabemo Odyuo IQAC coordinator. Altogether 172 participants participated.
